COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will provide a comprehensive overview of psychological thought from ancient Eastern and Western cultures, the Roman Empire, the Middle Ages, and the Renaissance. In the modern world, from about 1600, the focus is on intellectual traditions that contributed to the formal founding of psychology as an independent discipline. These traditions include rational and empirical philosophies, advances in physiology, new quantitative techniques, evolutionary theory, naturalistic approaches to emotional problems, and significant humanitarian reform movements in the nineteenth century. The text provides in-depth coverage of the intellectual trends that followed psychology's formal founding in the late 1870s, based on an analysis of the major systems of thought and key developments in basic and applied psychology. The final chapter focuses on major trends in scientific and professional psychology from the latter half of the twentieth century to the early twentieth-first century.

EARNING POINTS IN THIS COURSE

1. Discussion Threads

As with many online courses, it can be difficult to make up for the thought provoking and many times lively discussions that occur in the typical lecture based course. The goal of discussion threads for this course is to instigate critical thinking about the many topics in this particular subject. We can all gain a lot more insight about entertaining the many different perspectives we all have on these topics!

Each week I will post questions related to the chapter we are on (see detailed week by week summary below). You will be required to post a reply/answer to my question (using the textbook to answer). Your reply to my question will need to be submitted by Wednesday midnight. In addition, you will also be required to reply to at least 2 other discussion threads that have been posted by your classmates. You must make sure that your two classmate submission replies are submitted by Friday midnight. The reason why I am requiring that your thread submission to my questions be submitted by Wednesday as opposed to Friday (as your classmate submissions are) is so that we all have enough submissions to reply to. I have found in previous semesters that with our busy schedules it can be easy to wait till Friday (deadline day) to post all 3 submissions. This defeats the purpose as the submissions and replies are rushed and general. We need enough time to engage in critical discussions with one another.

As Psy 2000 (Writing in Psych.: APA Style) is a prerequisite for this course, please make sure your writing is written in proper essay format. You will notice that I give A LOT of constructive feedback on the first few weeks of thread submissions. This is to make sure we are all on the same page with what is required in regards to writing and answers. Please look under FILES for sample writing submissions to guide your own answers.

Each week of threads is worth 15 pts

2. Chapter Questions

At the end of each week you will need to submit by Friday midnight your chapter questions. These are due the Friday before we begin the next chapter. Therefore if next Monday we are starting Chapter 3, you need to submit Chapter 3 Chapter Questions by previous Friday. Please see the course outline for a detailed outline of when Chapter Questions are due. The reason why they are due the Friday before we start, is that it will prepare us all for much more thought provoking discussions the following week. You would have had to read the chapter before Monday's discussion thread questions are posted, and therefore your discussion thread answers as well posts to other students will be much more in depth. Your chapter questions should be multiple choice questions that you put together. You should submit 10 multiple choice questions with 4 answer options (a,b,c,d). Please note the correct answer for each question so I can check them.

Each Chapter Questions is worth 10 points.

3. Quizzes

All tests will be online via Canvas EXCEPT QUIZ 2 WHICH HAS TO BE TAKEN AT THE TESTING CENTER. The only thing you can take into the testing center is the actual textbook for our course. All other quizzes you can use both the book and any other supplemental material (my lecture notes, your own notes, your study guide) that will help in answering the questions. You will have 60 minutes to complete the quiz from the time you open the quiz online. The dates are listed below. Please contact me asap if you have any questions regarding this.

4. Required PROCTORED Quiz

As per Dixie State University regulation:

Online courses at Dixie State University require proctored aspect. You need to take one exam by reporting to a proctored test site and showing ID to verify your identity. All other coursework can be submitted via Canvas. If you are testing on the main campus or in Hurricane, you do not need to provide a proctor test form. If you are in a distance location, you need to use the form provided on the test center site to get approval for a distance proctor and to register with our testing center to have that test delivered to the remote site. You will not be able to pass the online course unless the proctored quiz is complete.
