Office Hours: M,W, F 9am-10 pm

Lecture: Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 8:00 am to 8:50 am, McDonald 106

Course Description: Exploring adolescents' developing identity, psychosocial and cultural adjustment and their needs for acceptance, autonomy, and intimacy in light of the major physical, cognitive, and cultural changes of this phase.

Prerequisites: None

Required Text: Belsky, J. Experiencing the Lifespan (2nd edition). New York: Worth Publishing. ISBN-13: 978 1 4292 1950 1. Available at the Dixie State College Book Store and through on-line retailers

Philosophy/Expectations: This course will operate on the philosophy that active engagement with material fosters quality learning. There will be ample opportunity for in-class discussion, both in small groups and with the entire class. Students are expected to read assigned text prior to class and be prepared to participate in class to maximize the learning experience. The provided course calendar indicates when topics will be covered; however, please allow for some flexibility in the schedule.

There is no attendance policy for this course, other than for administrative purposes. However, absences may result in lost learning opportunities, including possible extra credit opportunities.

Social Science Program Objectives:

As an outcome of taking courses in the Social Science program, students shall:

1. Demonstrate the ability to examine human behaviors in a structured and organized way as a means of understanding the human condition. Measured by examination and/or oral and written reports.
2. Demonstrate the ability to recognize the ideas, people and events that are generally thought to be important by social scientists. Measured by examination and/or oral or written reports.
3. Develop a perceptual frame of reference based on social scientific knowledge. Measured by the presence of an attitudinal frame of reference which would be expressed in written or oral activities.
4. Exhibit concepts of critical thinking and scientific methodology in examining human behavior. Measured by the presence of an attitudinal frame of reference which would be displayed in written or oral activities.

Course Objectives & Outcomes: The primary objective of this course is to provide an overview of adolescence and emerging adulthood and its methodology. By the end of this course, students should be able to:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of the history and study of adolescence and emerging adulthood.

Human Development Along the Lifespan
PSY 1100 Section 01 CRN 23793
Spring 2012

2. Demonstrate knowledge of the biological processes of adolescence and emerging adulthood.
3. Demonstrate knowledge of cognitive development in adolescence and emerging adulthood.
4. Demonstrate knowledge of the development of the self in adolescence and emerging adulthood.
5. Demonstrate knowledge of the contexts of development of adolescence and emerging adulthood.
6. Demonstrate knowledge of the development of social relationships in adolescence and emerging adulthood.
7. Ability to apply concepts learned in class to work with adolescents and emerging adults.

Examinations: There will be 5 exams throughout the course. Your lowest exam grade will be dropped from the calculation of your final grade. Mid-semester exams will be administered in the Testing Center (you will be required to present your student ID to take the exam) between the hours of 9:00 am and 9:00 pm Monday through Friday and 4:00 pm to 9:00 pm Saturday and Sunday over a three-day period. Please see the Testing Center Website for further information and to verify hours of operation. The final exam will be in class on Thursday, 29 April 2010 from 12:30 to 2:30 pm. No early or make-up exams will be permitted for any of the exams under any circumstance.

The final exam will be in class on Friday, 30 April 2010. Because your lowest exam grade will be dropped, and the three-day period to take an exam, no early or make-up exams will be permitted for any of the exams under any circumstance.

The exams will consist of multiple choice, true/false and matching items from the material presented prior to the examination.

Academic Honesty: As stated in the DSC Student Handbook; “Academic dishonesty in any form will not be tolerated at Dixie State College (Academic Discipline Policy, 3.34)” including cheating, and plagiarism. These acts of academic dishonesty are strictly prohibited.

Please carefully review the APA Publication Manual section on plagiarism to avoid unintentional plagiarism. Another helpful resource is: www.Plagiarism.org

Disruptive Behavior Policy: If your conduct in class affects the learning atmosphere of the class, the instructor reserves the right to drop you from the class. This will happen using the following procedure:

- Verbal warning that your behavior is negatively affecting the class
- Written warning that you are negatively affecting the class
- Removal from the class. The instructor will inform the student in writing of this, along with contact information for a supervisor of the instructor so the student can appeal if desired.

Policy for Absences Related to College Functions: For students, such as student athletes, who travel as official representatives of the college, absences due to college functions will not negatively affect the student’s grade. The student is required to provide the instructor with a schedule of days that will be missed, will be required to negotiate any scheduled work ahead of time with the instructor.
