Course Syllabus

Purpose of Course: This psychology course is a social science general education option, which means that it is one of several courses that satisfy the requirement of one or two courses taken in the social science area. It will transfer to any post-secondary institution in the state of Utah as well as most any other states. It often serves as the prerequisite course for other courses in psychology core programs.

This course offers the student an opportunity to study the science of psychology and the scientific methodology on which it is based. It will fill a general education requirement. Emphasis is placed on the role of critical thinking with the process of scientific inquiry. Furthermore, the present instructor relies heavily on learning theory as the basis for other topics such as emotion, motivation, perception, personality development, adjustment failures and the healthy lifestyle.

Social Science Program Objectives:

As an outcome of taking courses in the Social Science program, students shall be able to:

1. Demonstrate the ability to examine human behaviors in a structured and organized way as a means of understanding the human condition. To be measured by examination and/or verbal and written reports.
2. Demonstrate the ability to recognize the ideas, people and events that are generally thought to be important by social scientists. To be measured by examination and/or verbal and written reports.
3. Develop a perceptual frame of reference, based upon social scientific knowledge. To be measured by the presence of an attitudinal frame of reference, which would be expressed in written or verbal activities.
4. Exhibit concepts of critical thinking and scientific methodology in examining human behavior through lifespan development. To be measured by the presence of an attitudinal frame of reference, which would be displayed in written or verbal activities.

Class Management Objectives:

By the end of this course, students earning a transferable grade, (at least a "C-"), will have met the minimum criteria of performance by completing the following:

1. Consistently attending class. (More than TWO absences WILL affect your grade!)
2. Diligently reading the textbook.
3. Preparing for and Completion of all chapter and final examinations.
4. Completion of at least five original research papers in APA Format.
5. Two Posters from Chapters 14 and 15.
6. Accumulation of total points from exams, 5 pop quizzes, research work, any extra credit and attendance, which equals or surpasses 55% (grade of "D-") of the total points possible for the quarter. (Please be aware that "D" grades are usually not transferable to other academic institutions.)

Course Objectives:

Students who complete this general psychology course shall be provided with a learning environment, which should prepare them to complete the following:

1. Demonstrate an understanding of the human being and its lifespan development, an awareness of psychological terminology and a general informational base, as measured by observation of presented verbal and written communications during the course.
2. Demonstrate the recognition of major theorists in the field of lifespan development as measured by proper identification of contributor and an explanation of the contribution made by them. This recognition should reflect the importance of theorist's ideas and events, which are generally thought to be important.
3. Exhibit the elements of critical thinking and scientific methodology in examining human lifespan development. This will be measured by participation of student behavior, which demonstrated an awareness of critical thinking procedures, within the classroom, and by evaluation of written and verbal statements.
4. Demonstrate a position of acceptance and/or reservation concerning the field of lifespan development and the scientific and practical contributions it offers in the explanation of human behavior. This will reflect the student's view of the knowledge of psychological, social, economic, and/or political theory in either oral or written expression of these ideas.

5. Develop a level of competence, which will allow the graduating student to meet the continued requirements of other psychology courses, requiring lifespan development as a prerequisite.

NOTICE:

The study of human behavior includes subject areas, which may be considered controversial and may antagonize your personal value system. The responsibility of the instructor will be to present these areas with factual, balanced objectivity and respect, yet still carefully addressing the controversial nature of the issues. It is recognized that the instructor will present biases and perceptions, despite attempts to be objective. The student of psychology should be aware of this and should formulate opinions based on elements of critical thinking. It is the responsibility of the student to recognize divergence of thought as a healthy condition of inquiry and to not necessarily accept different perceptions as reality.

If the study of human sexuality, abnormal behavior, deviancy, interpersonal relationships and theories of human behavior are incompatible with your behavior style, then set an appointment with the instructor for discussion. Otherwise, drop the course.

Please do not bring pagers and/or cell phones to class. They are disruptive, unless you put them on vibrate! If special circumstances prevail, then contact the Professor before class.

The Disability Resource is available for those who might need special accommodations. The office can be contacted for further information on these accommodations. The phone number is 435-652-7880.

Text:

Psychology: second edition. Schacter, Gilbert and Wegner.

The text has a study guide and CD, both have been found to be helpful. However, the text is all that is required.

Lectures:

All lectures will follow the content as indicated in the reading schedule. For you to benefit from this course, it is IMPERATIVE that you read the assigned chapters PRIOR to class. Approximately 5 pop quizzes will be administered during the course. You can not make up a missed pop quiz! This is what one calls extrinsic motivation! These quizzes will be doubled and will equal one full exam. Bring questions discovered during your reading to class in which they will hopefully be correctly answered. The professor assumes that students will actively read each chapter as scheduled. It will become evident when students are not reading the text, and for shame if it is your specific problem!

Daily lectures will consist of questions and answers, discussions, demonstrations, assessment preparation, 5 pop-quizzes, presentations, theoretical discussions, practical application of theoretical issues and other psychological issues experienced and/or brought up by the instructor.

PLEASE NOTE:

It is also assumed by the professor that your reading ability is at the collegiate level. The professor will NOT lecture by covering each page in the text. That is the student's job. However, several aspects from each chapter will usually be discussed. You are encouraged to ask questions, for that is how we learn. Remember, the only "dumb question" is the question that is never asked. If the professor asks for questions during his lecture and no one has any, then it is ASSUMED that everyone has read and understood the text chapter. The professor has lots of stories, and most will be related to the topic. If they are not, then be cool anyway! Professors have to have a life too!

Class Policy:

Disruptive and/or disturbing behavior will not be tolerated. Always be respectful while in class. Certainly there will be no cell phone transmissions while in class. Late assignments will only be given half credit, period! Missed exams are considered to be very taboo. If you know in advance that you will miss an important class period, contact the professor before your absence to make arrangements for make up.

Reports:

At the discretion of the professor, he will require six scientific papers as one of the requirements for this course. You will complete library research or personal inventory, which will reflect your ability to locate, read, abstract, compose and critique a research subject in psychology. The five page paper is more specifically identified as a POSITION PAPER. It differs from a RESEARCH PAPER, in that you are allowed to choose a position, stating up front either for or against the subject you have chosen from the text, and then present logical and critical information to support your position. Include the section from the text your subject is from and then use two additional professional references as sources of information pertinent to your argument.

The paper will be written in APA format with a minimum of four references. A written paper will be graded HONORS PLUS, HONORS, PASS, OR FAIL. A report graded as "FAIL" may be resubmitted for "PASS" credit only. Papers graded with "HONORS PLUS" will be those papers valued at 90% and higher. Papers graded with "HONORS" will be those papers valued at 80% to 90%. Papers graded with "PASS" will be those papers valued at 65% to 80%. Papers graded with "FAIL" and not resubmitted, will receive no points.

NOTE: It is important for every student to know that each paper will be submitted and checked at various web sites for any phrases and statements that have been plagiarized. Any plagiarized paper will receive a "0" on their paper. However, I will do my best to fail any student who submits a plagiarized, or even a previously submitted paper. This paper MUST be your own work. Initial Drafts of your paper will help insure that you do your own paper. Be on your guard for cheating of any kind in this class. Issues dealing with suspected cheating will be written up and sent to the Dean of Students for some unpleasant action. Don't let it happen to you!

It is important to submit all your work in typed format APA format and that you careful FOLLOW in outline for paper submission! Those submitting these materials otherwise will be electing for reduced grades. Academic integrity is important at Dixie State College. Do not abuse academic standards while you are here at DSC or any other academic institution.

Attendance:

Attendance in this class will be consistent with policies established by the Instructional Services Council. Roll will be taken every day. More than Two unexcused absences will be taken seriously and WILL effect your final grade. Plan on attending class every day, unless you have a signed excuse. Those who perform on athletic teams will have to make up any missed work, as any other student is required to do.

Examinations:

There will be five term exams worth a total of 100 points <sup>each</sup>. The final exam will be comprehensive and will amount to 200 points. The five pop-quizzes will amount to 100 points. ~~The four~~ <sup>five</sup> research papers will amount to 25 pts each with 50 points on the Health Plan paper. The two posters will be worth 100 points and the Presentation will be worth 25 points. Class exercises and verbal paper presentations amount to 50 points. There will be 25 pts for class participation. Thus, 1250 points will be possible. Do the math to figure where you want your grade to be, and then earn it. We will have in-class exams with exam feedback and discussion being part of the learning paradigm.

In college there is usually no such thing as being able to retake an in-class exam. You get one chance to score well on an examination. Take them seriously! Thus, preparation is the key. I as the instructor will prepare you well as long as you are reading and studying the text. If you are absent or ill and can't take a scheduled exam, there will be a make up exam and it will be different and probably more difficult than the original exam.

In-class pop quizzes can't be made up regardless of the reason for your absence. They will usually be on days where athletic events are not scheduled. There might be some take home exams. There is usually no such thing as extra credit in college, however, I have been known for giving two or three opportunities for extra credit. It is also encouraged to bring pertinent up-to-date periodical articles to share in class.

Grades:

Your course grade will be determined by accumulating all points obtained from all the 5 pop quizzes, chapter exams, any term exams and a position exam, and any reports, and any extra assignments required. There may be a small bonus added to those who actively and knowledgeably participate in class discussions. Points are totaled at the end of the semester for your final grade.

I do not grade on a curve! I believe in mastery learning against set criteria, not against moving target criteria. Thus, the following percentages from each assignment, as well as the entire point total earned for the course, will determine your grade. May the Grades Be With You!

93% - 100% = A	73% - 75% = C
90% - 91% = A-	70% - 72% = C-
86% - 89% = B+	66% - 69% = D+
83% - 85% = B	63% - 65% = D
80% - 82% = B-	55% - 62% = D-
76% - 79% = C+	54% and below = F

NOTE: Tuesday and Thursday classes are tricky. Miss one class and you technically miss 1.5 classes. Do NOT MISS CLASS unless you absolutely have to. These weekly courses go by quickly. You need to keep up with the schedule or you will fall seriously behind. Plan effectively and study righteously and you will be well rewarded.

During the last few weeks of class, it is not the time to miss class or get sick. It will NOT be the time to slack off either. There will be a lot required of you in a short three week period of time. Be prepared by reading ahead and getting all your assignments done early. May THE FORCE be with, or whatever that means!

This Course Syllabus may change due to unanticipated happenings. Some of the scheduled "In Class Exams" might in fact be take home exams or exams taken in the testing center. However, as the instructor, I will do my best to keep true to what you have read in this Syllabus. If any significant changes occur, they will usually benefit you, the student. At least, take comfort in that! Good luck to you, may you enjoy this class and I hope the content and skills learned will remain long with you.
